How To Cite An Article

How To Cite An Article
When you cite a work that appears inside a larger source (like, for instance, an article in a periodical or an essay in a collection), cite the author of the internal source (i.e., the article or essay). For example, to cite Albert Einstein's article "A Brief Outline of the Theory of Relativity," which was published in Nature in 1921, you might write something like this:

MLA In-Text Citations: The Basics // Purdue Writing Lab
To cite an article using APA citation style, start with the author’s last name first, followed by a comma, then their first and middle initials. If the article has more than 1 author, list them in the order they appear in the byline of the article.

4 Ways to Cite an Article in APA - wikiHow
You must agree to the changes in order to access your account, and all the work associated with it. If you do not agree to these changes, you will be logged out and your account will be deactivated. Some pro accounts may receive partial refunds - please visit support.easybib.com to start a refund ticket.

MLA: Newspaper - EasyBib: Free Bibliography Generator
To have your bibliography or works cited list automatically made for you, check out our free APA citation maker. Once you’re finished with your citations, we can also help you with creating an APA title page. Citing a journal article in print APA format structure: Author, A. (Publication Year). Article title. Periodical Title, Volume(Issue), pp-pp.

Citing a Journal Article in APA - BibMe
How to Cite an Article. Articles in scholarly journals and magazines, both in print and online, are common sources for research papers. Provide an in-text citation every time you paraphrase or quote from the article, and include a full...

4 Ways to Cite an Article - wikiHow
When you cite a magazine, journal, or newspaper article found through a library subscription database, you must include some key components. The following are helpful hints on how to do this. Single author: Put the last name first, followed by a comma, followed by the first name (last name, first name), then a period. Example: Morley, Hugh.